

Knitting and Crochet on the street.
Pushing boundaries.

Annette can pinpoint the moment her creative knitting adventure really began: she bought, modified and knitted a jumper kit by Jenny Kee commissioned by the Australian Wool Corporation.

- Since being introduced to yarn bombing in 2010 her knitting has taken Annette
- to New York, accompanied by three lace adorned pigs... as artists in residence at a knitting expo,
  - to the Italian town of Trivento, Italy, where she installed a mob of lace covered kangaroos as part of the town's International Yarn Bombing Day
  - she is currently busy with Melbourne's GLAD Rappers leading the community yarnbombing of a clock tower in the south eastern suburbs of Bayside to be finished before she heads to Gympie
  - contributing a raft of Fairy Penguins to the Flown In From Australia display going to Cologne's International Yarn Bombing expo in March 2023

And have I mentioned her double-knitting? Simply superb.

Annette showcases her eclectic creations on social media under the name Nini & Wink exhibiting her designs with local galleries and councils.

Right: Some of Annette's work, including a knitted tea cosy of Dame Edna, most of which will be on display at the event.

